BRIEFLETS.

—Another light fall of snow last night.

—The water works question is now boiling hot.

—Regular meeting of the common council on Monday night.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Shurtliff, of this city, are visiting at Beaver Dam.

—Mr. I. G. Oakes, who has been sick for three weeks past, is now recovering.

—The "Heroine in Rags" is written by the great dramatic author, Bartley Campbell.

—Secret sessions of the school board are notable for one thing—they are never secret.

—The high wind arising from too much water works has put spring back at least two weeks.

—Miss Florence Bindley in the "Heroine in Rags" at Myers new opera house, Wednesday, March 5.

—Frank L. Hayden has recovered from his recent illness, and was able to be down town again to-day.

—The Odd Fellows and their families will assemble in social reunion this evening at Odd Fellows hall.

—There will be a gospel temperance meeting at the Wayside Inn this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Everybody is invited.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Commercial Travelers' Association will be held at the Myers house parlors this evening at 7:30 p. m.

—Jay S. Mayhew is carrying one arm in a sling. While coping cars in the Milwaukee & St. Paul road two of his fingers were badly crushed.

—From an El Paso paper it is learned that "F. S. Winslow, H. D. Gode and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Randolph, of Jonesville, Ohio," were registered at that city last Saturday.

—In the Congregational chapel last night was held a well attended and very enjoyable social. All present enjoyed the affair greatly and the honor for departure was far from welcome.

—From the amount of mixed paint that Storrs & Baker are unpacking it is inferred that Janesville's residences are soon to be decorated in a way that will make oriental splendor pale by comparison.

—Mr. G. A. Shurtliff, in the dry goods store of Hugh McClellan, West Milwaukee street, was called to Wisconsin this morning, by a telegram announcing the dangerous illness of his sister at that place.

—At three o'clock this afternoon the artesian well was 980 feet deep, the flow of water steadily increases as the drill penetrates the Potsdam stone. A beautiful little brooklet is now flowing from the well to the river.

—There was no lack of patronage at the supper given by the Earnest Workers of Court Street church last evening for the Sunday school room was well filled, and the delicacies and substantial provided seemed very acceptable.

—Jimmie Collins, of Edgerton, will run a half-mile foot race with Frank P. Smith, of Milwaukee, at the Exposition risk in Milwaukee, this evening. He also offers to run a one-hundred and fifty yard race against the fastest skater in the city.

—Mr. H. Cunningham, one of the substantial farmers of Johnsonville, has bought a fine lot on Milwaukee avenue and will build him a residence in the near future. Mr. Cunningham will be recognized as a valuable acquisition to the Beaver City.

—Patrick Smith came before Judge Patton this afternoon, charged with having stricken his fist under another man's nose, called him several impolite names and otherwise acted as though he wanted to fight. The latter complained of happened in the post office several days ago.

—Mr. H. C. Hadley, formerly of this city, now of Wichita, Kansas, has been elected one of the board of directors and assistant secretary of the St. Louis, Fort Scott & Wichita railway company. Mr. Hadley has many friends in Janesville, who will congratulate him on his good luck.

—O. H. Brand, city editor of the Recorder, has received a flattering offer from the manager of the Mand Granger Company, which visited Janesville last week, to act as the company's business manager on their trip to the Pacific coast. The company will play Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Idaho, to Portland, Oregon, down to San Francisco, and back east.

—News of the death of the little three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Terry, of Nebraska City, Neb., has been received in this city. Mrs. Terry is a sister of Mr. F. I. Prentice, of the drug firm of Prentice & Evenson, this city. She formerly resided in Janesville, and has many friends here who will deeply sympathize with her in her sad bereavement.

—Whether the Guards will go to Washington or not is still a doubtful question. When the trip was first talked of, special rates were offered them by two railroads. The interstate commerce bill has forced the roads to withdraw these propositions and nothing has been heard since. If the men are obliged to buy tickets at the full price the chances of their seeing Washington are slim.

—An effort is being made to re-catalogue the books in the public library. Many of the most valuable books in the collection are not in the current edition of the catalogue, but new volumes are being added every day and it is hard to tell just when to shut off and begin the listing. There is another complaint made by the library committee and that is that the public do not buy enough of the catalogues to pay for issuing them.

—Mr. E. Silver, representing the Union Printing company of Little Rock, Arkansas, is in the city. He is the general agent for the company, and is especially interested in introducing the "Practical Home Farmer," a book of some 1,100 pages devoted to practical topics. Mr. Silver will remain in Janesville and vicinity for some time to establish agencies. He may be consulted at the home of Mr. Parish, opposite Dr. Judd's residence.

—Book agents are conceded the right to show more "rall" than any one else; but when they try to get in at back doors and anywhere else, whether they are wanted or not, their welcome speedily wears out. Some of those around the city within the past few days, have acted in that way, and if they ever visit Janesville again they will probably be treated to a surprise party. One of them, after a lady told him several times that she didn't care for his book, remarked very blandly: "The trouble with this town is that no one but those in the better classes ever do care for any reading matter."

—A children's department at the Rock county fair, superintendent and exhibitors to be under fifteen years of age, was decided upon at the quarterly meeting of the society to-day. An appropriation of fifty dollars was made. At the same meeting it was decided to leave to the executive committee the matter of renting the grounds for a trading meeting in June; and to hold a special meeting of the society on April 20th, to revise the premium list for this year.

—Janesville people that visited St. Paul last winter are not likely to doubt that a toboggan can travel as fast as a mile a minute. But President Dabolt of the Ridgfield Athletic club of Albany, New York, says in the February Swiss Cross that the speed is really much more than that. Toboggans on the club chute have been timed at the point of their greatest speed, which is when they leave the chute and strike the ground, and found to attain a velocity of ninety-three miles an hour. The timing calculations were carefully made and repeated again and again by a civil engineer.

—The sale of tickets for the Grand Concert by the Janesville and Rockford Musical Societies, which occurs in Beloit on Friday evening, March 11, commenced in that city this morning, and to say the least the demand for reserved seats was very rapid, and a large number were sold. At nine o'clock the orders for reserved seats numbered over 350. Prospect sent for a block of 75 seats, and orders from Rockford, Rockton, Delavan, Clinton, Deland and Janesville added to the great demand by Beloit citizens leaves no doubt that every seat in the Congregational church will be taken before Monday night.

—While Ed. F. Carpenter was in Madison the other day he asked Governor Rusk about the water works of that city and what he considered the best thing for Janesville to do. The governor's emphatic response was: "Don't make the mistake that Madison did by building and owning the works. I see they are using the same argument with you as they did here: That water for private consumption could be had cheaper with city ownership than with a company. The facts are that before Madison decided which to do she had several propositions in which the water rates agreed upon for twenty years were just one-half of what is being collected now."

—The Pisk Jubilee Singers gave a concert last evening at the Fourth Street Congregational church, which has seats for 500 people. When it is stated that over 1,000 tickets were taken at the door, and that nearly 200 persons went away unable to get into the church, an idea of the drawing power of the company may be had. All the numbers were rendered with fervor, unmistakable, with perfect pitch and harmony, and with expression most wonderful. A very pleasant surprise was given by the work of Mr. Caldwell, who has taken the place of Mr. London, the phenomenal bass. Mr. Caldwell does not suffer by comparison with his predecessor, and in the matter of expression in singing is his superior. —The Detroit Free Press.

At Lappin's Music Hall, Friday evening, March 11th.

THE CHARTER AMENDMENTS.

Now Pending in the State Senate at Madison.

Representative of the Gazette called upon Assemblyman Wiggins this morning to ascertain what amendments to our city charter were now pending in the legislature, and from him learned the following:

First—Allowing the mayor and common council to contract with a private company for the building of water works and repaying the cost creating a board of water commissioners.

Should the mayor, from any cause, fail to obtain an acceptable contract from a private company to build a system of water works, then the mayor and common council are to have the power to build the same to be owned by the city.

The act of 1855 (known as the Milwaukee charter) is not to be used except by consent of the common council in the building of the water works.

Second—Electing a street commissioner by a vote of the people, and giving the common council the power to remove said officer for cause.

Third—Repealing the clause giving the power to remit fines.

Fourth—Changing the name of Sack Co. No. 1 to "Janesville Fire Police."

Fifth—Providing for the acceptance of North Fourth street bridge and its main trestle, provided the cost does not exceed $800.

Sixth—Giving the mayor power to remove any police officer for cause, or to suspend such officer.

Mr. Wiggins stated that the proposition to amend the charter, giving the mayor the authority to appoint the chief of the police department, could now be added while pending in the senate, if such a move was deemed best.

The Mayor's Message.—May be pardoned for requesting the mayor to incorporate in his next message the fact that many of our most prominent citizens have been ordered of the city, and that the Mayor has been ordered to remove them from the city.

It must be good, for everybody recommends it. We mean Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cents.

DISSENTION.

The co-partnership heretofore existing between Pierson Bros. is this day dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Frank Pierson will assume all liabilities and collect all accounts.

F. F. PIERSON, H. H. PIERSON.

Feb. 5, 1887.

$1,700 will buy 4 acres of fine land with improvements that have cost $2,000.

H. H. BLANCHARD.

It is a fact that Archie Reid has more corsets, more styles and better goods than all the other houses in the city and sells them cheaper at his special sale this week.

HELEN BONT JACKSON.

Afar on the mountain
Silent she stood,
The mist of the fountain,
Over her creep.

The soft clouds like blessings,
Droop overhead,
The trees bend caressing
Low over her head.

The stars keep lone watchlets,
Dropping their tears,
Through all the mazes,
Through all the years.

One is the summer,
Soft robes of green,
The mountain-tops shimmer
With dazzling sheen.

High o'er the mountain
Drifts the cold snow;
The clouds the fountain
In bondage below.

But, up above, keeping
Watch over all,
In her blue gown,
Nestle down the fall.

Upon the loftiest of the Oneque
mountain in Colorado, the sweet singer Helen Bont Jackson, the sweet singer whose voice is silenced forever. The falling waters cheer her requiem and the stars bend lovingly over her last resting place. In her home all the flowers are left in the vases, and every article of furniture in her room is left standing just as her hands last arranged them.

Though the flowers may crumble to dust, and Time's ruthless hand may destroy and destroy the mementos she left behind her, the memory of her earnest life work will remain forever. She gave to the world in "A Century of Dishonor," an earnest plea for the condition of the Indians, and with "Patience as strong as was her hopefulness" she counted no sacrifice to great in accomplishing her object.

If to departed spirits is given the power to review the scenes of their earthly labors, surely it will be gratifying to her to know of the action taken by government within the last year, for the civilization and improvement of the Indians. By the late agreement with the northern tribes, the United States
holds their reserved lands for forty years,
after which they are allowed their titles
in fee simple.

There will soon be placed on exhibition in New York City, the work of the Indian students at Carlisle in the department of manual training.

It is said that their rapid advancement is simply phenomenal, some of the pupils having been but a short time under tutelage. The results of this experiment of government in civil-izing and educating the Indians, have been most happy and encouraging thus far, and perhaps by these conciliatory means the troublesome Indian question will in time be solved.

Who can say that this improvement of the condition of the Indians is not the ripening of the harvest, sown by this gentle woman years ago, and yet welcome dew near the end, and was sudden to lay her burdens down, so fully satisfied was she with her life work that she said in her "Last Words":

"Father, I scarcely need to pray,
So clear I see now it is done
That I have wasted little my day
And left my work just begun."

A MEMORABLE CURE.

Mrs. Charles Reid, of Armstrongville, Suffolk county, N. Y., writes as follows of the remarkable cure of a peculiar pain in her back:

"Four years ago I was attacked with a severe pain in the spine, close to the small of my back. It was especially painful going up or down stairs. After using over ten remedies and consulting half a dozen physicians without any benefit, my husband applied one of Al-cock's Famous Plaster directly over the seat of pain. I kept it on a week and I fancied I was a little better, but was not quite sure. I then put on a fresh one. At the end of a week my husband noticed that the plaster was coming off in the middle. Upon peeling the plaster off, a hole about the size of a quill was found which discharged yellow matter very freely. Another plaster was put on with a good sized hole in it to enable the matter to escape.
The plaster sticking in the middle, with great power and the discharge increased every day a little. At least a part of matter was discharged from the wound before I got entirely well, which was exactly five weeks from the time I put the first plaster on. The matter which came out was like shanks to them, I have not since had an ache or a pain in my back."

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 24 degrees above zero.
Light snow with east wind. At one o'clock p. m., the register was 32 degrees above zero. Cloudy with east wind. For corresponding hours one year ago the register was 20 and 51 degrees above zero.

Who Wants a Dairy Farm?

I offer for sale a strictly first class farm of 134 acres, located one mile from a thriving town of 2,000 inhabitants, having buildings and conveniences for stock and dairy purposes worth alone $5,000.
Owner has the entire milk trade of the town, averaging 150 to 200 quarts daily.
Will sell with the farm the milk business,
thirty cows, six horses, and all the farm utensils and machinery at a liberal discount from cash value. Good reason for selling immediately.

FLORENCE BINDLEY.

With a play like the "Heroine in Rags," which was given at the opera house last evening, to criticize and to do justice to the many excellent actors and actresses, novelty in production, scenic and mechanical effects, beside the really beautiful drama is indeed a task. The play from beginning to end is a complete revolution in dramatic performances, being full of new and interesting ideas, startling situations and demanding the interest of the audience until finished.

It is a pity that the "Heroine in Rags," which has been ordered of the city, has been ordered to remove them from the city.
